“Becka” to be part of Spring 2009 launch of new school & library publisher
Windmill Books!

(San Diego, CA) – Windmill Books, a new school & library publisher, will be launching in Spring 2009 with a Pre K -2 imprint, Alphabet Soup and a Grades 5 – 8 imprint, Skyview Books. Dedicated to literacy powered by imagination and information, Windmill Books will offer pre-, struggling, and skilled readers high-quality fiction and nonfiction to match their interests and learning needs, and fuel their reading passion.

Windmill Books was delighted to pick up the new, but gaining national recognition, series of children’s books “Becka and the Big Bubble” as an anchor product for Alphabet Soup, its Pre K-2 imprint. The books are an entertaining way to teach children about the city or country where “Becka” travels. Libraries and schools are excited about this new series. There are 6 books so far: “Becka goes to San Diego,” “Becka goes to Chicago,” “Becka goes to San Francisco,” “Becka goes to India,” “Becka goes to the North Pole,” and the original “Becka and the Big Bubble, All Around Town.”

“The “Becka and the Big Bubble” series is an exciting acquisition for us. We are very selective and these books teach what we stand for: books that inspire, teach, and motivate kids throughout their formative years,” said Windmill’s editorial board. “The series is a perfect fit for our dedicated Pre K – 2 imprint, which features dynamic, thoughtful fiction to be read to, with, and by pre-, emergent, and early readers.”

The award-winning books will be sold in American Library bound editions by Windmill Books to libraries and schools across the Nation. The library bound books will be sold at an S&L price of $15.95. (Paperback editions will be sold at an S&L price of $8.95.)

The books: An acclaimed children’s book collection, "Becka and the Big Bubble" is about a confident young girl who floats on a magic bubble to visit new and interesting places to experience different cities and cultures while learning life lessons. Her friend Ben often travels with her. Good for all ages but more specific: Ages 2 – 8.

The TV show: The cartoon version of the “Becka” series now airs on TV in major media markets. PBS San Diego will run the “Becka” show in November as two week special.

The authors: "Becka and the Big Bubble" books are written by brother and sister team Adam Schomer and Gretchen Schomer Wendel. A former college soccer player at Cornell, Adam Schomer lives in Los Angeles and is both a writer and an actor. Gretchen Schomer Wendel is a former television reporter and producer. She lives in San Diego, California with her husband and two young children.
